Chapter 1 Introduction

1-1. Purpose

This regulation prescribes the Total Army Sponsorship Program (Active Army, civilian employees, and Reserve Components (RCs)). It provides principles of support, standards of service, policies, functions, and tasks governing the program. A system is provided to help commanders exercise their basic responsibility to assist soldiers, civilian employees, and families successfully relocate into and out of their commands. Sponsorship is a commander's program in which commanders and individual sponsors are key to success.

1-2. References

Required and related publications and prescribed and referenced forms are listed in appendix A.

1-3. Explanation of abbreviations and terms

Abbreviations and special terms used in this regulation are explained in the glossary.

1-4. Responsibilities

a. The Assistant Chief of Staff for Installation Management (ACSIM) will develop policy guidance to implement the Total Army Sponsorship Program.

b. The Chief, National Guard Bureau, will ensure that a valid sponsorship program, per this regulation, is in place for National Guard soldiers serving in an Active Guard Reserve (AGR) status.

c. The Chief, U.S. Army Reserve, will ensure that a valid sponsorship program, per this regulation, is in place for U.S. Army Reserve (USAR) AGR program participants.

d. The Commanding General, U.S. Army Community and Family Support Center (USACFSC), will—

(1) Appoint an individual to coordinate and manage the sponsorship program.

(2) Establish policy, procedures, and administrative controls for the program.

(3) Monitor and evaluate the program. Surveys, inspections, and reports should be used.

e. The Commanding General, U.S. Total Army Personnel Command (PERSCOM), will ensure that assignment instructions are issued for Active Army soldiers with sufficient lead time to appoint sponsors, per requirements of this regulation.

f. The commanders of major Army commands (MACOMs) and field operating agencies will—

(1) Appoint an individual to coordinate and manage the sponsorship program.

(2) Establish sponsorship programs throughout their command for all soldiers, civilian employees, and family members affected. In addition, they will—

(a) Ensure that the program includes Army National Guard of the United States (ARNGUS) and USAR soldiers attached or assigned for short tours of active duty, newly assigned individual mobilization augmentees, civilian employees making permanent change of station (PCS) moves, and family members during deployment of soldier or civilian employee sponsor.

(b) Ensure that the program details in this regulation, which pertain to all soldiers and civilian employees undergoing PCS moves, are followed as closely as possible for RC soldiers not serving in an AGR status.

(c) Ensure that RC soldiers not serving in an AGR status receive, at least, a welcome letter and the opportunity to request a sponsor and have one appointed.

(3) Monitor and evaluate the program. Surveys, inspections, and reports should be used.

(4) Provide technical assistance through field visits.

(5) Submit a summary of sponsorship issues and trends to USACFSC, ATTN: CFSC-FP-A, 4700 King Street, Alexandria, Virginia 22302-4418 within 30 calendar days from the end of the fiscal year.

g. Installation commanders will—

(1) Appoint an individual to coordinate and manage the sponsorship program at installation level.

(2) Implement the sponsorship program, per this regulation.

(3) Monitor and evaluate the program. Evaluation will include the use of DA Form 7274 (Sponsorship Program Survey) and the sponsorship questions for Organizational Inspection Program, located in appendix B. DA Form 7274 may be provided to soldiers and civilian employees during in-processing.

(4) Ensure that Army Community Service (ACS) relocation readiness services—counseling, welcome packets, pre-move destination information (including the Standard Installation Topic Exchange Service), and overseas orientation briefings—are used to support sponsorship. (See AR 608-1.) (ACS will provide a sponsor training support package and may provide other assistance to train sponsors upon request.)

(5) Ensure that rear detachment sponsorship is provided to family members during the deployment of the soldier or civilian employee sponsor. This will include—

(a) Maintaining the status of the family within the military and civilian community, providing the same respect and consideration as if the soldier or civilian employee sponsor were present.

(b) Keeping the family informed about the activities of the deployed unit or activity and of the services offered by the local installation.

(c) Maintaining an effective communication link between families, the community, and the command (on and off the installation).

(d) Acting as a sounding board and action agent for family needs, problems, and ideas.

(e) Serving as a referral point for goods and services offered by unit or activity and community support systems (on and off the installation).

(6) Ensure that soldiers, civilian employees, and sponsors comply with the provisions of this regulation.

(7) Ensure that a trained sponsorship pool exists at the unit or installation level to respond to programmed and unprogrammed arrivals.

h. Battalion (activity) commanders will supervise and evaluate their sponsorship program.

1-5. Manpower resources

The Manpower Staffing Standards System measures tasks required by this regulation to determine military manpower requirements for local sponsorship programs as part of the personnel reassignments and strength management work centers.

1-6. Levels of work

a. Personnel activities for soldiers are conducted primarily at three levels—unit, battalion, and installation. The guidance in this regulation refers to those levels or some equivalent for other types of organizations such as exist in the ARNGUS and USAR.

b. Personnel activities for civilians are primarily conducted in the civilian personnel advisory center (CPAC).

1-7. Principles of support

The Total Army Personnel System directs the sponsorship function to—

a. Assist soldiers, civilian employees, and families during the reassignment process.

b. Assist families geographically separated from the soldier or civilian employee sponsor because of duty requirements.

c. Improve unit or organizational cohesion and readiness by decreasing distractions that hamper personal performance and mission accomplishment.

d. Support the Army's personnel life-cycle function of sustainment.

1-8. Standards of service

a. The sponsorship program—

(1) Is a peacetime personnel function.

(2) Does not deploy with the tactical force.

(3) Is the functional responsibility of the Strength Management Branch (military) and CPAC (civilian).

b. Personnel will be advised to make known their sponsorship needs as part of the reassignment management process.

c. A welcome letter will be sent from the battalion (activity) commander (for officers), command sergeant major (for enlisted soldiers), or commander or activity director (for civilian employees) to the incoming soldier or civilian employee within ten calendar days following receipt of DA Form 5434 (Sponsorship Program Counseling and Information Sheet) by the battalion (activity).

d. Sponsors will be appointed as part of the strength management process for military personnel. Sponsors for civilian employees will be appointed by supervisors.

e. Strength managers or commanders and supervisors will ensure that DA Form 5434 is forwarded and responded to in a timely manner. Standards are to forward DA Form 5434 received by higher echelons within three working days of receipt; to appoint sponsors, unless the soldier declines, within ten calendar days of receipt of DA Form 5434; and to forward the sponsor welcome letter and information within ten calendar days of appointment.

f. Sponsors will respond to correspondence within ten working days of receipt.

g. Installations will operate outprocessing systems to minimize disruptions in the departure process.

Chapter 2 Sponsorship Program

Section I Program Overview

2-1. Elements of the sponsorship program

a. DA Form 5434. DA Form 5434 is used to transmit sponsorship requirements to gaining commands. It is completed by the departing soldier during initial reassignment interview or by the civilian employee following selection notification and acceptance of a position. The completed form will be forwarded from—

- (1) The losing activity to the gaining MACOM or activity.
- (2) The gaining MACOM or activity to the unit of assignment (military) or supervisor (civilian).
- (3) The unit of assignment or supervisor to the sponsor.

b. Welcome letter. A welcome letter will be sent from the battalion (activity) commander (for officers), command sergeant major (for enlisted soldiers), or commander or activity director (for civilian employees) to the incoming soldier or civilian employee. The sponsor will also send a welcome letter.

c. ACS relocation readiness services. ACS will provide counseling, pre-move destination information (including the Standard Installation Topic Exchange Service), and overseas orientation briefings. ACS will also provide welcome packets upon request. These packets will normally be obtained by the new arrival or the sponsor for the new arrival, rather than being mailed to the departing individual at the losing installation. Departing individuals should be encouraged to use, upon assignment alert, the Standard Installation Topic Exchange Service or welcome packet files at their local ACS.

d. Reception. When possible, the sponsor should plan to greet the incoming soldier or civilian employee and family upon arrival. Specifics should be worked out between the sponsor and the incoming soldier or civilian employee.

e. Orientation. The sponsor should familiarize the new soldier or civilian employee and family to the unit or activity and community, including an early visit to ACS. This general orientation should be in addition to the formal orientation briefings the new arrival receives during inprocessing.

f. Inprocessing. The sponsor does not conduct inprocessing. The sponsor assists the new arrival with inprocessing only when necessary.

2-2. Participation

a. Every soldier in the ranks of private through colonel (excluding soldiers completing advanced individual training (AIT) and soldiers making PCS moves to student detachments at long-term schools) and civilian employees through grade 15, undergoing a PCS move, will be offered the opportunity to participate in the advance arrival sponsorship program. Long-term military schools will provide welcome and sponsorship information, but they are not required to provide individual sponsors. Gaining commanders will change pinpoint or ultimate assignments of soldiers assigned sponsors only in rare or exceptional cases. When assignments are changed, sponsorship will be transferred and coordinated immediately with the gaining command or activity.

b. Reactionary sponsorship will be offered to all soldiers in ranks private through colonel, and civilian employees through grade 15, who arrive at an installation without an assigned sponsor.

c. Every departing soldier and civilian employee will be offered outsponsorship assistance.

2-3. Selecting and training sponsors

a. Selecting sponsors. Sponsors represent the first impression of a new assignment for an incoming soldier or civilian employee. Only those individuals who can represent the gaining unit or activity in a positive manner will be selected as sponsors.

b. Training. Commanders will ensure sponsors are adequately trained to perform tasks related to sponsorship. Commanders may request a training support package or other assistance from ACS to train sponsors.

2-4. Sponsor feedback and recognition

Sponsors will receive feedback on their performance. The effective sponsor should be recognized on the same basis as any other soldier or civilian employee performing in an exemplary manner. Recognition should be given by the appropriate commander and agree with existing award policies. The act of sponsorship and welcome for new soldiers, civilian employees, and their families is a low-cost but labor-intensive activity that, when performed with care, knowledge, and sincerity, will benefit the unit (activity), soldier, civilian employee, and their families. Therefore, recognizing a deserving sponsor is important.
