WATER WISE

One beautiful morning, my family joined some friends for a boat ride on Lake Nacimiento on the central coast of California. The water was cold, so we had no plans to go swimming. We just wanted to spend some time on the beautiful lake. I never imagined that the trip would nearly end in tragedy.

A NEW PERSPECTIVE

Just about everybody has seen accident videos that warn, "It could happen to you." Fortunately, most folks haven't experienced the loss of a friend or loved one to an automobile accident. I wish I were one of them.

TRUST YOUR SYSTEMS

It was just my second mission in country, and things weren't going well. When all was said and done, I learned a number of lessons, including that system knowledge, along with good decision-making, will help you and your crew arrive safely.
