

Secretary of the Army John McHugh 2013 Holiday Greeting Video
29 Sec

Season's greetings to our families and military members serving at home and abroad. For some, this is your first time away from loved ones, and for others, another holiday spent away from friends and families. For our heroes who have recently come home, this is a special time for celebration. Wherever you are, know that your sacrifice is appreciated and as Americans, we celebrate your service. You are all in our thoughts during this most special time of year.

Happy Holidays.