MORE THAN A GOOD IDEA

Soldiers believe we are immune to "Murphy." If the "I-won't-get-hurt-because-I-won't-allow-it-to-happen" mentality sounds familiar, keep reading. I was that type of person. It took an event out of my control to change my mind. I hope that after reading this you, too, will be persuaded to consider doing some of the little things that can make a big difference in your safety.

GUT CHECK

I was excited about the flight. The commander and I would fly to the site — I as the PC and he as my co-pilot — recon it, refuel, have lunch and return. I was confident in my abilities to handle any situation and wanted to show him what I could do.

LOST IN ALABAMA

The thought of getting lost in your home country with GPS and cellphone technology readily available may seem far-fetched and ridiculous. I'm here with real-world experience to tell you that it is indeed possible — and could happen to you.

SAFETY FEATURE

MOBILE DISTRACTION TEXTING

It's better to be safe than sorry. Texting while driving is a leading cause of preventable accidents.

Training, Discipline and Standards

Training, discipline and standards are the backbone of our Army, and as Soldiers, you've been taught what's right. As leaders, you have a duty and a responsibility to maintain standards in your organizations. They also have a responsibility to your Soldiers and their families to manage risk and take action to prevent accidents. The right equipment, essential training and discipline, knowledge is the corner stone.

PRODUCTS & TOOLS

Learn the safety culture and climate within your organization with the Army Readiness Assessment Program.

The Ground Risk Assessment Tool is an interactive, automated online system developed to augment risk management planning and decision-making for ground operations.

The Know the Signs campaign is designed to heighten awareness of risk factors and provide leaders and Soldiers the tools they need to address safety issues in their unit or peer group. The signs are all around. It's up to you to recognize and act on them.
