

National Nurses Week (May 6-12) Transcript

As our country takes time to celebrate National Nurses Week, 6-12 May, Command Sgt. Maj. Brock and I would like to personally recognize the outstanding contributions and selfless service of our nursing team. We are proud of our clinical experts in all specializations serving world-wide. Your committed efforts to influence each and every patient experience throughout the patient caring touch system never ceases to amaze us. You routinely provide responsive, innovative, and evidenced based nursing care that enhances the readiness and health of the force, preserves life and function, and promotes the health and wellness for all those entrusted to your care.

You can be extremely proud of all that you do to care for our soldiers, airmen, sailors and marines, family members and retirees. You understand how to deliver complex, quality care across the continuum of care. You provide trusted and compassionate care that helps to preserve the strength and health of our nation. Thank you for what you do.

Army medicine is, serving to heal...honored to serve!
