ALONG FOR THE RIDE

I was tasked for a mission to insert personnel into a landing zone at 7,000 feet pressure altitude and a temperature of 30 C. We conducted a reconnaissance of the landing zone and determined the size, wind direction and approach path. Everything looked normal. As I started the approach for landing, things were going good until about the last 30 feet.

ARE YOU PREPARED?

People survive disasters by putting forth the effort to plan before they strike. Until resources can be mobilized and assembled in your area, you are on your own to care for your family and neighbors. Will you be prepared?

ADDICTED TO THAT RUSH

DID YOU KNOW?

Before heading to the beach or lake this summer, check out the USACR/Safety Center's online Water Safety Challenge. This interactive site puts challenging and fun online activities, as well as links to useful information, right at your fingertips. Show off your skills by competing in the Water Safety Challenge today.
