ON TOP OF THE WORLD

I was on top of the world. I'd just been promoted to master sergeant, and my colonel, a man I really admired, pinned on my stripes and made me officer in charge of the transportation section. An officer was normally placed in this position, and I was the first enlisted person to hold the billet. My commanding officer said he had faith that I could handle it. A few months later, however, my world came crashing down.

GET TO KNOW EYEPRO

Sports are an everyday activity for many Soldiers, sailors, airmen and Marines. And although sports are also a leading cause of eye injuries, the use of safety eyewear has not completely taken hold.

KNOW YOUR OPTIONS

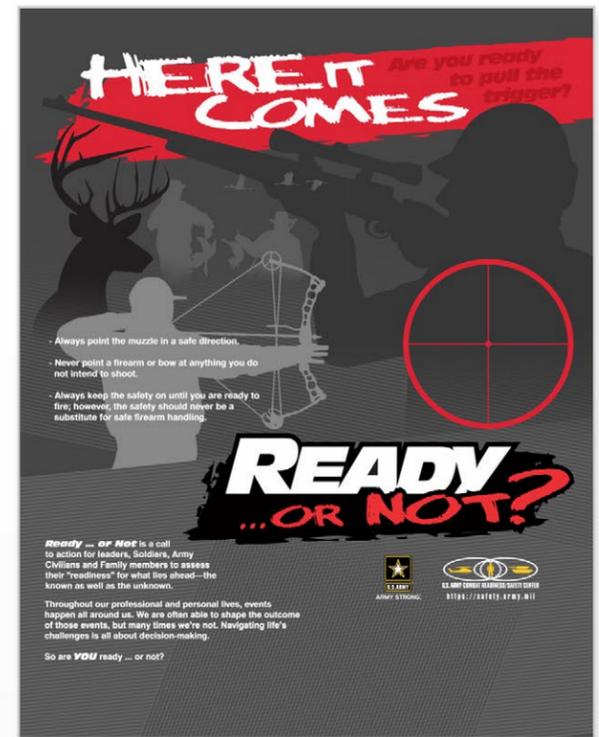

Running out of options is never a good thing, so be sure you have plenty available to you. Getting on the ground safely with options still available means you had enough at your disposal.

DID YOU KNOW?

Every two years, the Army releases a new safety campaign intended to promote individual responsibility and engagement on all fronts to help prevent fatalities and injuries. The new campaign — entitled Ready . . . or Not? — is designed to heighten awareness of risk factors by causing individuals and leaders to ask themselves one simple question, "Are you and/or your organization ready for what is about to happen?" PRODUCTS & TOOLS

Mentoring can help keep Soldiers safe. Find out what you can do to protect your Soldiers with the Motorcycle Mentorship Program.

Find and review Army accident data with the Risk Management Information System.

On the home front, a Soldier's "battle buddy" is often his or her family. Engaged families can make a huge difference in the safety of our Soldiers off-duty.

Make your Soldiers aware of the off-duty hazards they'll face in the upcoming months with the Off-duty Safety Awareness Presentation.
