U.S. ARMY RESEARCH, DEVELOPMENT AND ENGINEERING COMMAND

Major General John F. Wharton Commanding General

Major General John Wharton serves as Commanding General of the United States Army Research, Development and Engineering Command at Aberdeen Proving Ground, Maryland. RDECOM ensures the dominance of Army capabilities by empowering, unburdening and protecting the Joint Warfighter through integrated research, development and engineering solutions. MG Wharton leads more than 14,000 researchers, engineers and support personnel.

MG Wharton was commissioned a Second Lieutenant following graduation from the United States Military Academy at West Point in 1981. His first assignment was Fort Hood, Texas where he served as Main Supply Platoon Leader and Company Commander, 15th Supply and Transport Battalion, 1st Cavalry Division.

In 1985, he transferred to the Dragon Brigade, XVIII Airborne Corps, Fort Bragg, NC, and later deployed to Sinai, Egypt, with Task Force 3-502nd Infantry, 101st Airborne Division (Air Assault) as part of the Multinational Peace Keeping Force and Observers (MFO). He remained deployed with TF 2-504th Parachute Infantry Regiment (Airborne), 82nd Airborne Division, becoming the first Commander of the Support Company, Logistical Support Unit.

In 1986, MG Wharton assumed duties as an Inspector General to the United States Army Western Command (WESTCOM) at Fort Shafter, Hawaii. Following that tour, he served as Battalion S3 in the 25th Supply and Transport Battalion, 25th Infantry Division(Light), Schofield Barracks, Hawaii. From 1992 to 1994 he was the Lieutenant Colonels' Assignments Officer at the United States Army's Personnel Command (PERSCOM), Alexandria, Virginia, and then moved to Fort Drum, New York, to be Battalion Executive Officer in the 210th Forward Support Battalion, 10th Mountain Division (Light Infantry) and later deployed to OPERATION RESTORE/UPHOLD DEMOCRACY as the Battalion Commander (Forward). Following the deployment, he remained at Fort Drum as Chief, Division Materiel Management Center (DMMC), 10th Mountain Division Support Command from 1995 to 1996. For the next two years he served as a Joint Strategy Planner in the Logistics Directorate, J4, Joint Chiefs of Staff (JCS), Pentagon, Washington, D.C. In 1998 he took command of the 1st United States Army Support Battalion, 507th Corps Support Group (Airborne), MFO, Sinai, Egypt. After command, he served a second tour at PERSCOM as the Quartermaster Branch Chief.

In 2001, MG Wharton assumed brigade command of the 55th Theater Support Command (AC/RC), Eighth United States Army. From 2003 to 2004, he led the CSA's Task Force Logistics and was subsequently selected to be Deputy Commander (Futures), U.S. Army Combined Arms Support Command. In 2006 he became Director, Army Initiatives

Group, Army G4, followed by Executive Officer to the HQDA Deputy Chief of Staff for Logistics, G4, Washington, D.C. In 2008, he deployed to Kuwait as Commanding General, AMC-SWA/U.S. Army Central G4/CFLCC C4 for OPERATIONS IRAQI FREEDOM and ENDURING FREEDOM. He was the U.S. Army Materiel Command Chief of Staff from November 2009 to March 2012. MG Wharton's most recent assignment was as Commanding General, United States Army Sustainment Command and Rock Island Arsenal, and as the Senior Commander for United States Army Garrison, Rock Island. As the ASC Commanding General, he led a global organization of over 65,000 Soldiers, civilians, and contractors, responsible for sustaining Army and Joint Forces in support of Combatant Commands.

In addition to his degree from the United States Military Academy at West Point, his education includes the Quartermaster Basic and Advanced Courses, the Inspector General's Course, the Command and General Staff College, and the Naval War College. He holds a Master's Degree in National Security and Strategic Studies.
